

S

lip & Fall Practice

by Charles E. Turnbow

Stay Current!

HIGHLIGHTS

Win More Slip & Fall Cases

Let Charles Turnbow help you overcome the difficult proof hurdles in your slip and fall cases. After consulting on more than 9,500 fall accidents, he knows what it takes to prove a causative link between the hazard and a negligent act by the defendant.

In this annual update to his renowned book, Mr. Turnbow shares more of his practice-tested proof tools and hard-won scientific and legal know-how. Inside this update you will find:

Expanded chapters with new forms

Extensive new text and new practice tools have been added to Chapter 18 Falls in Markets and Chapter 19 Falls in Residences. You receive new practice tips, additional citations, model questions, and the following forms:

- Supermarket and retail store investigation and discovery checklist. §1870
- Complaint for fall in supermarket. §1881
- Demand for production of documents in store falls. §1882
- Demand for inspection of property where fall occurred. §1883
- Stairway deposition outline for the opposing expert that completely explores the issues of (1) excessive variation in depth of tread, (2) slippery stairs, and (3) defective handrails. §1981
- Investigation checklist for stairway fall accidents that help you obtain essential measurements, photographs, documents, and discovery. §1971

Pattern expert examinations

These detailed Q&As, with illustrative case studies and citations to supporting standards and other resources, show how to document and persuasively prove slip and fall claims involving:

- Striped tread surface on train station stairway. §1762
- Spilled milk in supermarket, with no sweep sheets. §1810
- Variation in riser heights, water accumulation, and worn abrasive strip on apartment stairs. §1942

Text of book now on CD

The CD included with your supplement now contains the entire contents of Slip and Fall Practice, not just its forms. No software installation is required to search the book; simply insert the CD and either click the chapter desired or search by key word. Details may be found in the book's blue pages.

The book's forms remain accessible in separate Word files, so if you do not want to bother with the database you may simply use your word processor (either Word or WordPerfect) to open and modify any form chosen.

Don't overlook the deposition outlines on CD

To keep the book and updates affordable, we publish lengthier materials on the CD only. You will find digital but not print versions of the following deposition checklists. They have been hand-crafted by Mr. Turnbow, the number one expert in the field.

- Treating physician deposition outline (Form 860-1)
- Eyewitness to accident (Form 860-2)
- Defense expert (Form 860-3)
- Plaintiff expert (Form 860-4)
- Store manager (Form 860-5)
- Maintenance personnel (Form 860-6)
- Street superintendent (Form 860-7)
- Property manager (Form 860-8)
- Playground supervisor (Form 860-9)
- Playground maintenance worker (Form 860-10)

30-day Return Policy

If you do not want to update your copy of Slip & Fall Practice, you may return the supplement, CD, and invoice within 30 days for full credit. Please help us continue to improve the book by noting your reason for return on the back of the invoice. The supplement may be returned to:

James Publishing, Inc.
3505 Cadillac Avenue, Suite H
Costa Mesa, California 92626